1) taken from the shells of crustaceans

2) taken from beef cartilage

The naturally occurring nutrients in the New-Zealand green lipped mussel include omega-3-fatty acids, vitamin E and glycosaminoglycan.

Bewegung-Fit contains a high proportion of green lipped mussel powder which is known for its rich content of organic nutrients such as glycosaminoglycan. Glycosaminoglycans belong to the group of amino sugars (simple sugars) and are a natural constituent in synovial fluid and cartilage.
